G.O. Ms. No. 1555.

Dated the 28th June 1948.

Order:-

The Corruption Enquiry Committee, 1947-48 which has made various recommendations for the eradication of corruption in public services has recommended inter alia that supervision and inspection of the work of subordinate officers by superior officers should be done more frequently than at present and that occasionally it should also be without previous notice. The Committee has also suggested that superior officers during their visits to the offices of their subordinates should carefully scrutinise the judicial and executive orders issued by the latter and if those orders appear to them to have been passed on improper grounds, they should go into the matter specifically and take necessary action. The Government accept the Committee's recommendation and direct the Heads of Departments to see that it is acted upon by the officers of in their respective departments.
